

TABLE OF CONTENT

---

|                                                                                                                                         |         |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|
| Chapter 1                                                                                                                        |         |
| Growth and Characterization of mixed Amino-Nitrate Crystal with NLO Application                                                  | 1 - 14  |
| Shailesh S. Dongare                                                                                                                     |         |
| <hr/>                                                                                                                                   |         |
| Chapter 2                                                                                                                        |         |
| Biomaterials and Biomedical Applications: Development and Characterization for Medical Devices, Implants, and Tissue Engineering | 15 - 25 |
| Mahendra H. Janrao, Dilip D. Thorat, Pratap M. Zalake, Namdeo T. Dhokale                                                                |         |
| <hr/>                                                                                                                                   |         |
| Chapter 3                                                                                                                        |         |
| Rare Earth Nanomaterials: Synthesis, Properties, and Emerging Applications                                                       | 27 - 42 |
| Sayantani Chall, Soumen Sarkar                                                                                                          |         |
| <hr/>                                                                                                                                   |         |
| Chapter 4                                                                                                                        |         |
| Advancements in Textile Industry through Nanomaterials: Applications, Challenges, and Future Prospects                           | 43 - 56 |
| Jyoti Mayekar, Soham Sawant                                                                                                             |         |
| <hr/>                                                                                                                                   |         |
| Chapter 5                                                                                                                        |         |
| Synthesis, Biological Studies of Garlic Nanoparticles: A Review                                                                  | 57 - 65 |
| Shrikrishna Digambar Tupare                                                                                                             |         |
| <hr/>                                                                                                                                   |         |
| Chapter 6                                                                                                                        |         |
| Advances in Dye-Sensitized Solar Cells: Materials, Mechanisms, and Emerging Applications                                         | 67 - 81 |
| Nitin Suryakant Choudhari, Sanjaykumar N. Dalvi                                                                                         |         |
| <hr/>                                                                                                                                   |         |
| Chapter 7                                                                                                                        |         |
| Advances in Dye-Sensitized Solar Cell–Integrated Energy Storage Systems: Materials, Architectures, and Applications              | 83 - 93 |
| Pranali A. Ghule, Sunanda H. Pisal, Ravindra U. Mene                                                                                    |         |

|                                                                                                                                                                          |           |  |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|--|
| <hr/>                                                                                                                                                                    |           |  |
| Chapter 8                                                                                                                                                         |           |  |
| Different Characterization Techniques and Physical Parameters Useful for Materials Analysis                                                                       | 95 - 112  |  |
| Ravindra N. Chikhale                                                                                                                                                     |           |  |
| <hr/>                                                                                                                                                                    |           |  |
| Chapter 9                                                                                                                                                         |           |  |
| Synthesis Pathways of Conducting Polymers and Nanocomposites for Hazardous Chemical Detection                                                                     | 113 - 124 |  |
| Siddhartha Samanta, Ranjan Dutta                                                                                                                                         |           |  |
| <hr/>                                                                                                                                                                    |           |  |
| Chapter 10                                                                                                                                                        |           |  |
| Comprehensive Characterization of Thin Films Using Advanced Microscopic and Spectroscopic Techniques                                                              | 125 - 144 |  |
| Sandip Wakchaure, Vilas Khairnar, Priya Bhagat, Deepak Tupare                                                                                                            |           |  |
| <hr/>                                                                                                                                                                    |           |  |
| Chapter 11                                                                                                                                                        |           |  |
| Nanomaterials for Electrochemical Energy Conversion and Storage: Synthesis, Characterization, and Applications                                                    | 145 - 158 |  |
| Tanushree Manohar Sukul                                                                                                                                                  |           |  |
| <hr/>                                                                                                                                                                    |           |  |
| Chapter 12                                                                                                                                                        |           |  |
| Polymer Based Nano Composite Hydrogels                                                                                                                            | 159 - 172 |  |
| Yogesh B. Tribhuvane, Ranjit Arjun Tribhuvane                                                                                                                            |           |  |
| <hr/>                                                                                                                                                                    |           |  |
| Chapter 13                                                                                                                                                        |           |  |
| Electrochemical Energy Storage: Unlocking the Power of Advanced Materials                                                                                         | 173 - 194 |  |
| Tanushree Manohar Sukul                                                                                                                                                  |           |  |
| <hr/>                                                                                                                                                                    |           |  |
| Chapter 14                                                                                                                                                        |           |  |
| Advanced characterization techniques for magnetite Nanoparticles Loaded with Biodegradable Waste: A Comprehensive Guide for Effluent Water Treatment Applications | 195 - 209 |  |
| Harshal Madhukar Bachhav, Megha P. Javheri                                                                                                                               |           |  |
| <hr/>                                                                                                                                                                    |           |  |

---

Chapter 15

Influence of Mn Doping on the Crystallinity and Morphology of Cerium Oxide Nanoparticles Synthesized by Co-precipitation 211 - 221

Nandkishor S. Sangle, Sangita S. Meshram

---

Chapter 16

PEDOT: PSS/Carbon Nanotube based polymer Nanocomposites for Advanced Electronic Applications 223 - 233

Alina Solkar, Jignesh Mehta and Arvind Singh

---

Chapter 17

Fabrication and Processing Techniques of Silica Aerogels 235 - 245

Sapna B. Jadhav, Pradip B. Sarawade

---

Chapter 18

Nanostructured Metal Oxides for Supercapacitors: Computational Insights and Future Prospects 247 - 273

Sandesh V. Gaikwad, Chetankumar D. Chavare, Harshada R. Mali, Pushpinder G. Bhatia, Gaurav M. Lohar, Digambar M. Sapkal

---

Chapter 19

Synthesis Techniques and Thermal Properties of Chalcogenide Glassy Alloys 275 - 287

Sunil Kumar

---

Chapter 20

Synthesis and Thermal Properties of Indium Additive Based Some Multi-Component Chalcogenide Glasses 289 - 298

Sunil Kumar

---

